LOOKS BRIGHT TO QUAY.

He Left Dave Martin's Side for a Mo-Senator Quay consented to tear himself away long enough from his friend, Dave Martin, with whom he was in secret conferace at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning, to see an Evening World reporter. He ively declined to be interviewed, but, being pressed for an expression of opinion on the situation as viewed by him, he said: "Oh,

"For Harrison?" Inquired the reporter.

The Senator shut the door and disappeared. Quay is now the leading spirit at Republican National Headquarters, and since in his arrived in town all the campaign inangers, including Chairman Carter, have been looking to the Pennsylvanian for points.

allied with ignorance of consequences makes indiscretion and folly inevitable. It is this fact which explains to-day the thousands of partially wrecked constitutions among young men, the weakened vitality, the shattered nerves, the exhausted energies, the loss of that noble strengt and vigor which go to make the perfect man. It is power, vigor, strength which alone make man admirable; it is the energy of strong vitality which makes him successful in whatever work or business he undertakes, and if he is Nerve-Wenkened and Nerve-Exhausted
